A Father's Caution Saves His Daughter from a Man Already Wedded.

Union City, Aug. 28.—Some months ago, Miss Elsie Chester, of Union City, was, on her way to Springfield, Mo., to attend school, met on the train a good looking young man, of pleasing address, who gave the name of Harry Dillon, who afterwards visited her at Springfield.

After she returned, Dillon followed her to Union City, and obtained employment as bookkeeper in the spoke factory of E. B. Chester. Miss Elsie's father, and secured board with the family.

The young people's love was mutual for each other, Dillon proposed, and was accepted. The marriage to take place in September, with Mr. Chester's consent.

Dillon appearing to be a perfect gentleman and worthy of his daughter. He thought it better, thought to investigate Dillon's character, and did so, learning to his surprise that he had a wife and four children living in Chicago, Mo.

Then he discharged the bookkeeper and ordered him from his house. That was some two or three weeks ago. Dillon left the town, and Wednesday he came to Union City and registered at the Palace Hotel as "H. Dillon, Chicago."

Yesterday Miss Elsie drove up here to see him, returning home last evening. This morning she had her trunk, carried to the depot at Rives and called C. O. D. to Chicago. He had been told the very man to drive her to Union City, where she met Dillon. Mr. Chester learned of the proceedings and hurried to Union City, where he found his daughter and Dillon visiting one of the former's acquaintances. Marshall, who greeted the girl, and as one of the lawyers interested in the case was compelled to leave, the sheriff, in default of $100 bond, placed Dillon in jail to await the examining trial Wednesday morning before Judge R. Polk.

Dillon admits that he has a wife and four children, but claims that it was his intention to secure a divorce. The prisoner is a man of good appearance, about 30 years of age, while his intended victim is a pretty and well educated, her father being able to give her every advantage.

Bids to Build Levee.

The Courier has been informed through interested parties that the Commissioners of the Hickman and Tipson Levee Company have advertised to let the contract for the construction of the lower part of the levee, from Hough Landing, about a half mile, the work to be commenced the first day of October. This looks like business, if it proves true, and it appears to be true.

—Reports are prevalent throughout the South that game will be very scarce this fall, especially among birds and furs. This is caused by the long rainy spell about hatching time. It would be a good idea for the States and counties of the South, if such a thing is possible, to prohibit hunting during the present fall and winter, otherwise serious consequences may result in the destruction of one of the luxuries of our Southern country, viz: partridge and wild turkeys.

OPENING OF SCHOOL.

Largest Number Enrolled of Any Previous Opening.

On Monday morning, promptly at the ringing of the bell the pupils and teachers of Hickman College, together with a very large number of visitors and several trustees assembled in the upper rooms at the College to enter upon the work of the new year.

The teachers were hopeful and enthusiastic; the pupils full of energy and ready for the encounter; the visitors full of cheer and ready to help on the work.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. J. H. Evans, who, in his usual style commented on the lesson read.

Mrs. Cox favored the audience with several artistic solos.

The music teacher, Miss Leone Fugate, added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by her soul inspiring music.

Mr. D. E. Wilson, the county Supt., delivered a short but pointed address, entertaining and instructive.

Taken all together the opening was perhaps the best in the history of the school, in number of pupils enrolled, in number of visitors present and general enthusiasm.

The attendance in the High School is especially gratifying, being larger than ever before. The total number enrolled is 273.

A number of leading families have recently moved to the town for the purpose of educating their children.

The school is on the up grade and all who feel an interest in the material growth and prosperity of the city should lend a helping hand.

REMOVED!

H. HICKMAN has moved his stock of Dry Goods from the ground floor to the room up stairs over his grocery house, where he will continue to sell goods at cash, and low than ever. Entrance—Stairs leading by Dr. Davidson's office turn to the left.

Ahmed of Jesus, that dead friend.
On whom my hopes of life depend;
Not When I blush, be this my shame—
That I no more reverse this name.

Next, I speak of the family near and dear, the friends and friends of the family, all feel it. It is a tumult, after the body is lowered into the grave, for all the relatives to come to the verge of the grave and look down into it. First those nearest the departed come, then those next to kin, until all the family are gathered around. So, when trouble and grief go down through the heart of one member of the family, they go down through them all. The sadness of one is the sadness of all. A company of persons join hands around an electric battery; the current flows through the wires, and touches the battery, and all the circle feels the shock. Thus, by reason of the filial, maternal and pa-things which tid hath prepared for them that love him. In these tide of love, we have to receive a bold fast leaf we are swept off and drowned in the emotions of gladness and thanksgiving and triumph.

What think you of the family property? It is considered an honor to marry into a family where there is great wealth. The Lord, the Highpriest of the Church, the King of the great Heav'n, said, saying in the words of the Canticles: "Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. And once having put on thy hand the almet ring of His love, you will be endowed with all the wealth of earth and all the comforts of the world."

Almost every family looks back to a homestead—some country place where you grew up. You sat on the dooralis. You heard the footstep of the rain on the garret roof. You most dangerous possibility is that the Republican Party will be the party that is responsible for it. For that reason they will vote for Bryan and the standard platform of the party, just as in 1906 they voted for Mr. McKinley and the standard platform of the party, the Republican platform. They are not protectionists in 1906, but they did not regard the tariff as a question of life and death in the campaign, and they supported Mr. McKinley on that issue.

There are not today ten silver men, but they do not regard that as the predominant issue. They are not protectionists, but they will support Bryan, although he stands on the tariff. They are really Republicans. It is a great issue. The American people repudiated it four years ago, and they are repudiating it again today.

If the Democrats should undertake to do this, they would be driving the silver men to the wall. They would be driven from power, and do not believe they would seriously attempt it. But if they should do it, they would be driven to do so, and they could not accomplish it in the next four years. It would be a great mistake to do so, and accomplish such a result, and his election will not be interpreted as an endorsement of the tariff.

— Either our manufacturers do not need any protective tariff to enable them to hold the home market or if they do they must be selling in foreign markets below the cost of production and are exacting extortionate prices from their own countrymen under shelter of the Dingley tariff. Whichever horn of the dilemma the Hanna party seizes will result in employing the protective tariff for purposes of commercial robbery of the American people.—Kansas City Times.

TRIALS CONTINUED

The edition of Henry Yates charged with complicity in the assassination of Senator Daniel, remained in the hands of the attorney of a raging fever and the recent publications of a Louisville newspaper, which contained a sensational conclusion and a charge of immunity for his crime as well as a money reward, has not had a beneficial effect. Yates, who is a native Virginian, is a man of integrity, as well as the other representatives of the state, and it is probable that there is friction between him and the attorney general, but he has information that would prove beyond the peradventure of a doubt that he could not receive a fair trial in any of the courts of the state. He has names selected for a special jury. Hyattman are Democrats and are not likely to be fair. He has seen in the tactics of the prosecution to secure a conviction no matter what the evidence may be. It is a fact that the attorney general is a man who was from one precinct, who the men selected were known to him, and that the attorney general, Daniel Nelson will make a bad fight against the jury drawn from the whole state in the usual order, and may seek to have the jury drawn from the precinct at the regular time of court.
